

Breast Cancer Staging Summary

The final staging in breast cancer will probably require multiple biopsies or surgical procedures, it will also require additional biochemical or imaging studies. The summary below will be TNM based. Much of the information required were discussed in other parts of the blog particularly the pathology section. The information below will be provided by your physician.

A. The TNM

My physician advised me that my TNM stage is as follow,

Tumor p lymph node p Metastases

B. Stage:

Based on the above information my stage is

C. Remarks:

Use the space below to write any additional details or information provided to you by your physician.